Immagina la Tecnologia Umana

a story that comes from afar

“Forward, always ahead, with courage and passion.

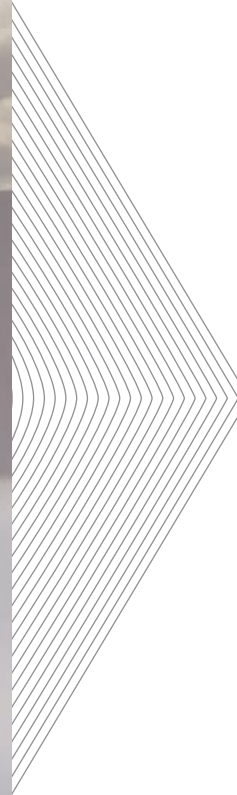

Since 1984, we work every day to listen to our customers and to design innovative IT solutions.

People, this is our secret.

Because technology for us is a matter of ideas and not of algorithms, a matter of men, not of machines.

TT Tecnosistemi has grown and continues to grow with this soul”.

Riccardo Bruschi
CEO TT Tecnosistemi Spa

a story that continues

Since 1984, we are present in the market as Retailers and System Integrator of Information & Communication Technology. We are researching and offering innovative IT solutions for companies, institutions and schools with just one goal: improving your business.

Simplify dynamics, improve efficiency, and increase job quality while saving time and money.

Continuous development, involving many sectors and crossing several countries, a development that daily nourishes the skills of our experts and those of our partners.

a story of people

What makes unique the purchasing experience in TT Tecnosistemi is the contact with the “human technology”.

The two TTs, Talent and Technology, an indissoluble conjunction of inspiration and continuous pursuit of excellence.

We always provide our customers a complete and close-knit business structure, from the first contact with the business department to the operational path with our engineers and project managers.

We complement you gradually: choosing the best product to meet your needs, up to post-sales support, with professionals able to help you in any situation.

Because behind the technology, there is always a person.

a story made of responsibility

Integration between ethics and business strategy.

We strongly believe in corporate welfare, in development generated and grown with human relationships. That is why we have drafted a vademecum of behavioural advice for a sustainable office through energy-saving policies.

Our corporate social responsibility, expressed through the promotion of green initiatives and social activities, manifests itself in the approach with you: our customers.

Loyalty to innovation.

Passion for our work.

Respect for human and the environment.

Three principles for one value: our work.

efficiency in every area

From business intelligence to immersive virtual reality, through projects dedicated to Smart Cities and digital media. Our solutions are transversal and customizable, at the same time satisfying the enterprises, the public administrations, the schools.

Business solutions

We offer a comprehensive consulting approach to select the best services for your business, with you.

Public Administration Solutions

We make available thousands of articles on the Government e-Market to make the Public Administration more efficient and innovative.
